Skills

Highly adaptable and motivated professional with nearly a decade of experience in the natural food industry and almost half a decade in a fast growing online learning corporation.

iPhone and Mac power user, and very proficient on PC and Android. Extensive knowledge of social media and various internet services. Great problem solving and critical thinking abilities. Excellent communication and people skills. Ability to work on complex problems with a focus on analytical thinking.

I have also created and managed multiple blogs and worked on a teams from around the world. Co-founded and maintain a niche tech podcast.

Outside of work I enjoy the outdoors immensely and one day like to own a homestead-farm with a focus holistic agriculture and an off-grid lifestyle. On my days off I can often be found on a local disc golf course or hiking on local trails.
